What is Stock Hub?

Stock Hub is a web-based inventory management platform that provides real-time visibility and control over stock levels across multiple locations. Designed for ease of access, it requires no software installation – users simply log in via a web browser using secure credentials.

The system supports flexible stock tracking through the portal, barcode scanners, or a mobile app, enabling fast and accurate transaction logging. It streamlines processes by allowing electronic delivery note imports and generating automated replenishment suggestions, which can be reviewed and sent to suppliers directly from the platform. With robust reporting capabilities and full transaction history tracking, Stock Hub supports both operational efficiency and compliance requirements.

Why choose Stock Hub?

- Web-Based Application: As a web-based solution, Stock Hub can be accessed from any device with an internet connection, providing flexibility and ease of use across different platforms without the need for complex installations.
- Industry-Recognised Technologies: The application is built using the latest, widely-recognised technologies, ensuring high performance, security, and scalability. This also means it stays up to date with industry standards and can easily integrate with other systems.
- Centralised Stock Facilities: Stock Hub provides a central hub for all your stock management needs. This centralisation makes it easier to track, manage, and report on your inventory in real time, improving decision-making and operational efficiency
- Comprehensive Stock Management: Stock Hub not only allows you to manage stock levels and track movements but also offers reporting and auditing capabilities, providing full visibility into your stock's lifecycle. This feature helps with accurate forecasting, cost control, and compliance.
- Handheld Device Integration: With the ability to download Stock Hub from the Google Play Store, handheld devices can be used to issue stock, providing added convenience. Users can access and update stock data from anywhere, making it ideal for businesses with mobile or remote workforces.
- Secure Authentication with Auth0: Security is a top priority, and by using Auth0 for authentication, Stock Hub ensures that users' logins are securely managed. This enables safe access to the application and protects sensitive data from unauthorised access.
- Replenishment stock button: Users can replenish stock calculations at the click of a button.

Together, these features make Stock Hub a powerful, secure, and user-friendly solution for businesses looking to streamline their stock management processes.
